3C Class Assembly

Yesterday 3C amazed us with their fabulous poetry written to celebrate National Poetry Day.

They all wrote a wonderful kenning poem about a tree and then shared their own verses that they had written in the style of The Word Bird by Sally Crabtree.

They were all so confident it was hard to believe this was their very first class assembly. Well done 3C and thank you to all their family members who came to support them.

Painting Wonders – by Aahana

I want to paint an autumn sunset, streaks of pale, saffron, and vermillion emblazoning the sky.

I want to paint time, sitting in the present. Tomorrow's yesterday, yesterday's tomorrow, on the whizzing hands of a clock.

I want to paint birdsong, so sweet to hear. Finches and bluebirds whistle from oak trees, passers-by mesmerized by its beauty.

I want to paint the rain, tapping on my window. The sky weeps for hours on end, filling pavements with fresh puddles.

I want to paint the sound of silence, serenity filling the room.

Ukraine

Silk skirts flying,

Mothers crying,

No time to waste, people are dying!

Waiting at the railway for hours and hours,

The tanks rumble on, trampling the flowers.

The train finally arrives,

Letting people come through,

So they take a final look,

At their flags of yellow and blue.

Blogging

Don't forget to have a look at our blogs on the following link:

The children would love it if you could pop on and give us a like or even a comment. Take a look at some of these fantastic poems from our children!

Building work

The building work for our expansion is due to start in October half term.

The contractors, ISG, have sent out a newsletter with information about the project. They will also lead an assembly for all of the children after half term.
